WANDA JONES IS NAMED REGIONAL ATTORNEY IN NLRB'S DENVER, CO REGIONAL OFFICE

National Labor Relations Board's General Counsel Ronald Meisburg announced the appointment of career attorney Wanda Pate Jones as Regional Attorney in the agency's Regional Office in Denver, CO (Region 27). In her new position, she will assist Regional Director Michael Josserand in the enforcement and administration of the National Labor Relations Act in Colorado, Wyoming, Utah and certain counties in Nebraska, Idaho and Montana.

The NLRB investigates and remedies unfair labor practices and conducts secret-ballot elections to determine whether employees desire union representation.

Commenting on the appointment, General Counsel Meisburg stated:

Wanda Pate Jones has compiled an exemplary record during almost 30 years of service with the NLRB. Her broad range of managerial skills and extensive litigation experience will be an invaluable asset for the Denver Regional Office. Her understanding of legal policy and law will serve her well as she assumes her new role in Denver.

Ms. Jones earned her B.S. degree with honors from Western Carolina University in 1975 and a Master of Social Work in 1976. She received her J.D. degree from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in 1979. Ms. Jones began her career with the Agency as a field attorney in the Board's Winston-Salem Office in 1979. In 1984, she transferred to Sub-Region 37, Honolulu, HI, where she served as a field attorney for nine years. In 1993 she was promoted to Supervisory Field Attorney in the Las Vegas Resident Office. She subsequently transferred to the Denver Regional Office as a Field Attorney, and was promoted to Deputy Regional Attorney in Region 27 in 1998. She was promoted to Assistant General Counsel for Labor Relations in 1999 and performed work as the Agency's Special Counsel before transferring to the Atlanta Regional Office, where she has worked since 2001.
